

SHERBORNE - BRIEF HISTORY, TOWN CENTRE MAP & PUBS

The Saxons named Sherborne scir burne - the place of the clear stream - and made it the capital of Wessex. In the 12th century Roger de Caen, Bishop of Exeter, built a fortified palace. Taken by General Fairfax in 1645, the romantic ruins remain and are in the care of English Heritage. It is now known as Sherborne Castle. Raleigh, Sherborne is, without doubt, one of the most beautiful towns in England. With its abundance of medieval buildings, superb Abbey, world famous Salisbury Castle, Sherborne has much to offer visitors. Sherborne Boys School, originally King Edward's School, has been built on the remains of the abbey buildings. The town is crammed with historic interest with 17th, 18th and 19th century buildings. Medieval buildings are abound in the town, the most important of which are The Almshouse of St John the Baptist and St John the Evangelist. The Julian, a 16th Cent house originally the hospice of St Julian of Norwich.

Had a trip to Sherborne. We started in the Digby tap that was so good we stayed longer than intended and so never really got to sample many of the other establishments!!! Had a quick trip across the road to the Britannia, and then back to the Half Moon, the Plume of Feathers is right next door but did not have time to go in. Managed to miss bus back to Yeovil, which might be an alternative route for some, buses are every hour and stop on the approach road to Pen Mill station, journey time is 20 minutes.

Anyway for you who make an early start have included some details of all establishments in Sherborne I could find info about if you want a look around.

Otherwise would suggest the following
