Tap East L

Tap East John Edwin Bitter, John Edwin Stout, guest beers H

A cask brewpub in a shopping centre opposite the main entrance to Stratford International Station, operated by Utobeer of Borough Market, SE1, serving two or three of its own brews – not available elsewhere – alongside foreign beers and over 100 bottled beers. Furnished with high tables and a couple of sofas, this is a bar in a shop unit, not a cosy pub. Cold snacks are available and there are myriad places nearby whose food you can eat here.

Bitter; guest beers  Large, contemporary Wetherspoon pub, converted in 1997 from a gymnasium, carpet retailers and a co-operative store. On the long bar, 12 handpumps serve up to six guest ales and real cider. There are plenty of tables inside and out, and TV for major sporting events. Opposite the bar, a raised seating area is available free of charge for meetings or parties. There is an unusual sculpture at the beginning of the bar.

Rita's Special; guest beers (H)

Traditional local, tucked away in the back streets near Leyton tube station, popular on Orient match days with both home and away fans. The excellent beer garden is recommended for summer. The pub is now managed by the What's Cookin' music promoters and there is live country or rock every Wednesday and Saturday or Sunday. As well as the house beer Rita's Special, the cask range includes two to four changing guests, often including a Mighty Oak beer.    (Leyton)
