THURSDAY 25TH MAY

Remains of Leeds Central Station-13 June 1968

Leeds was created a borough as far back as 1207 and it is now the third largest city in the UK behind London and Birmingham. It has the third busiest railway station in the UK outside London, and is the largest legal and financial centre after London. It has four universities.

Unlike Bradford which trails behind, Leeds has re-invented itself with much redevelopment and inward investment. Real ale is plentiful as we will see.
